QUESTIONS AND CLARIFICATIONS

Q1. Regarding use of additional pages to supplement the Submission Form, may respondents make use of additional pages to answer each question in Sections 2 and 3 (provided information is properly referenced in the Form itself), or may respondents only use additional pages for questions where permission is explicitly granted? For example, the parenthetical in Section 2a explicitly allows for the use of additional pages for responses to subsections i and ii, while Section 2b does not explicitly allow respondents to answer via additional pages, even though answers to Section 2b will likely require more space than what the form provides.

A1. Proponents are asked to submit their response on the Proposal Submission Form. Any additional information can be included as an Attachment to the Proposal Submission Form. This is for any section where that you may need additional information. The additional info should be in a format that follows the format of the Proposal Submission Form.

End of Addendum No. 1
